Welcome

This year’s 34th Annual Conference program will aim to address challenges of persons with IDD and what they may face while trying to reach their fullest potential. The conference will highlight topics supporting persons with IDD/MI and find ways that uniquely enhance a person with IDD/MI and what he or she may strive to be. Practical concepts of positive development, integrating technology for more independence, receiving emotional regulation support, will be provided among other concepts that can enhance daily lives and each individual’s potential.

This year’s keynote lecture Thursday, November 2, will be presented by Lauren Turner-Brown, PhD; who will speak about Reducing Comorbid Mental Health symptoms in in Individuals with Autism Spectrum Disorders. The keynote lecture by Robert J. Fletcher, DSW, ACSW, NADD-CC will be on Friday, November 3. The DM-ID-2 was written to address this challenge obtaining an accurate diagnosis for individuals with IDD, From the DSM-S to the DM-ID-2: A Focus on Modified Diagnostic Criteria.

There are six informative pre-conference symposia sessions presented by top specialists in the field. The sessions cover:

(I) US Health Policy During Government Transition: The Role of National, State and Local Advocacy for Individuals with Intellectual/ Development Disabilities and Co-Occurring Behavioral Health Disorders
(II) New Directions in Psychopharmacology
(III) NADD Accreditation / Certification
(IV) In Memory of Dr. Bill Lindsay: Community Support for People at Risk of Criminal Behavior
(V) Addressing Sexuality Issues for Families & Providers that Can Prevent Abuse and Trauma
(VI) Meeting the Complex Needs of Adults with Autism Spectrum Disorder: Research, Data, and Experience

Additionally, we are featuring a couple of “Family Issues” sessions which are designed especially for family members as well as professionals, which include topics that address current family concerns and provide parent’s perspective. Additionally, a room for family networking will be available. There will be a couple of practical skill building sessions for Direct Support Professionals (DSP’s) on Thursday and Friday. Thursday evening Special Interest Group Meetings are scheduled of which all attendees are encouraged to get involved in either Psychopharmacology, Psychotherapy, or Public Policy collaborations.

This year’s conference is located in the Sheraton Charlotte Hotel, Charlotte, shared with sister hotel, Le Méridien combined in European chic and Southern hospitality. The significantly renovated and award-winning Sheraton Charlotte Hotel provides a picture-perfect backdrop against which to explore the sights and sounds of Charlotte, NC.

The Sheraton Charlotte Hotel is near several dining and shopping options located in Uptown Charlotte, all localized in Charlotte’s tourist district. For the ideal shopping in downtown Charlotte, enjoy the Metropolitan, an exciting retail destination located three blocks from the Sheraton Charlotte Hotel. Discover the excitement of Charlotte and experience Charlotte’s premier entertainment complex, EpiCentre. Recreationally, there’s a sport for everyone in Charlotte. Take in a game at the Bank of America Stadium or catch a race at the Charlotte Motor Speedway. Discover all there is to know about NASCAR when you visit Charlotte’s own NASCAR Hall of Fame museum. For all, it’s an ideal destination for visitors. Conveniently located, Charlotte, NC is just 5 minutes from the Charlotte Douglas International Airport (CLT), and conference location.
